[SAEED KHALED]

As a MERN Stack developer specializing in front-end and back-end, I enjoy crafting integrated software solutions, striving to make interactions smooth and user experiences remarkable. Over the past two years, I have mastered Next.js alongside powerful tools like Framer Motion and GSAP, in addition to building efficient back-end systems with Express.js and MongoDB, to create scalable and comprehensive applications.

Outside of programming, I enjoy playing pool (even though I'm not very good at it), going to the gym to stay active, and pursuing my ongoing journey to make the perfect pizza. I believe the secret lies in fermenting the dough for the right amount of time and adding a generous amount of delicious sauce.
